

PrEP Resources

Pre-Exposure Prophylaxis (PrEP) is a medication that people at risk for HIV acquisition can take to reduce their chances of getting HIV through sex and/or injection drug use.

To educate, inform and increase your awareness of PrEP, please register on the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention \(CDC\) National Provider Information Network \(NPIN\) website. NPIN is a web-based information and resource platform connecting public health partners through collaborative communication and innovative technology solutions for HIV, viral hepatitis, sexually transmitted diseases (STDs), tuberculosis, and adolescent and school health. NPIN maintains a searchable database of information submitted to the CDC NPIN by the testing center or provider organization. Information entered into the NPIN database powers tools such as the GetTested testing locator utility and the PrEP Locator tool.
